

J-1 Scholar Application Packet

OVERVIEW OF J-1 VISA

The J-1 category is for persons who are coming to the U.S. for a short-term program in a variety of areas, such as study, long-term research, short-term research, teaching, or training. The University of South Alabama authorizes documents only for professors, research scholars, short-term scholars, and students. The Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS) DS-2019 is the document issued by the Office of Immigration to any person approved by the University of South Alabama for a J-1 program. This application for J-1 Visiting Scholar is for applicants in all J-1 categories other than student or student intern.

The J Exchange Visitor program is a temporary program and J-Visa holders should have no immigrant intent. This visa category should not be used by departments or internationals for permanent employment positions or to seek Permanent Residency in the United States.

The J Exchange Visitor classification authorized by I.N.A. § 101(a)(15)(J) was developed to implement the Mutual Educational and Cultural Exchange Act (Fulbright-Hayes Act) of 1961 [Public Law 87-256, as amended, 22 U.S.C. § 2451, et seq.]. The overall purpose of that Act and the objective of the Exchange Visitor classification is “to increase mutual understanding between the people of the United States and the people of other countries by means of educational and cultural exchanges.” The Department of State issues J-Visas and establishes and administers the federal regulations and policies governing the J Exchange Visitor Program.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS FOR ALL J-1 EXCHANGE VISITORS

There are a few basic requirements for all J-1 Exchange Visitors:

- 1) Intent to pursue appropriate activity (such as research or teaching)
- 2) Intent to return to home country (as determined by consular officer)
- 3) Sufficient funding for program – minimum $1,500/month
- 4) Appropriate background for program activity (i.e. the J-1 Exchange Visitor meets appropriate degree requirements)
- 5) Adequate English proficiency (as determined by the host department or by the University of South Alabama; applicants who are non-native English speakers or who are not residents/citizens of a country where English is an official language must submit either exam results from a recognized English exam (i.e. TOEFL, IELTS, etc.), submit signed documentation from an academic institution or English language school confirming proficiency, or be evaluated by the USA host department for their English language proficiency).

LIMITATIONS – DURATION OF STAY AND EMPLOYMENT

J-1 Research Scholar/Professor

- Limited to a minimum stay of 3 weeks and a maximum stay of 5 years to engage in research and/or teaching
- Independently-funded scholars are limited to 1 year of sponsorship with eligibility for annual extensions
- J-1 Research Scholars/Professors may NOT hold or be candidates for tenure
- Must have a specific objective sponsored by USA, such as to conduct research, teach, or consult
- 12/24-month bars may prevent J-1 Research Scholar/Professor sponsorship of those who have previously held J visa

J-1 Short-Term Scholar

- Limited strictly to 6 months; Short-Term Scholars may not extend stay beyond 6 months
- 12/24-month bars do not apply to J-1 Short-Term Scholars who wish to return in J-1 Professor/Research Scholar category

Incident Reporting: The Department of State (DoS) has issued an incident reporting rubric (see page 13 of 13) as a general guideline for report incidents involving J-1 exchange visitors. In cases when an exchange visitor loses or has their passport stolen, the exchange visitor must inform local police so that the passport is properly documented as lost or stolen for fraud and identity protection. A video to help you be aware of the sort of incidents that require reporting to the Office of Immigration can be found on YouTube: <https://youtu.be/ILGgzx-Pd6I>. We ask department sponsors and exchange visitors to please watch this video. Any incidents mentioned on the incident reporting rubric and/or video involving a USA or USA Health J-1 Exchange Visitor must be reported to the Office of Immigration as soon as possible, but no later than the same day the incident occurs.

REQUIRED FINANCIAL SUPPORT

Host departments must verify that the J-1 Scholar and any accompanying dependents will have sufficient funding for the entire length of stay. The minimum amount of financial support for a scholar is $1,500 per month, plus $750 per month for an accompanying J-2 dependent spouse and $500 per month for each accompanying J-2 dependent child. J-1 Scholars may be paid by the University of South Alabama or have independent financial support. If the department will pay the J-1 Scholar a salary, then the amount of financial support should be noted in the appointment letter. If the J-1 Scholar will not be paid by the department, then the scholar must submit evidence of financial support in the form of a bank statement or a sponsor letter.

SEVIS FEE & VISA FEES

Prospective J-1 Scholars and Professors are required to pay certain fees, described below, in order to obtain their J-1 visas* and enter the United States. Either the scholar or the department may pay these fees. * Please note: Canadian citizens must pay the SEVIS fee, but are not required to obtain a J-1 entry visa.

SEVIS Fee: The U.S. Department of Homeland Security charges all new J-1 Scholars a $180 fee to cover the costs of the Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS), a central database that manages information related to visitors' immigration status while in the United States. The Office of Immigration will provide prospective J-1 visitors with instructions on how to pay the SEVIS fee when sending the DS-2019 form.

Visa Fees: In addition to the SEVIS fee, the prospective J-1 Scholar must pay certain visa fees. Please see the Department of State web site for more information on fee amounts. In addition, if the visa is issued, the scholar may have to pay a further visa issuance reciprocity fee, if applicable. Prospective J-1 Scholars can consult the following web site to determine if they must pay a visa issuance reciprocity fee and the fee amount: <https://travel.state.gov/content/visas/en/fees/fees-reciprocity-tables.html>. J-1 Scholars should consult the web site of the particular embassy or consulate where they plan to apply for their J-1 visa for information on how to pay their visa fees: <http://www.usembassy.gov/>.

HEALTH/MEDICAL INSURANCE REQUIREMENT

Based on federal regulations that went into effect in May 2015, J-1 Scholars must maintain the following minimum level of health insurance for themselves and any J-2 dependents for the duration of their stay in the United States:

1. Medical benefits of at least $100,000 per accident or illness
2. Repatriation of remains in the amount of $25,000
3. Coverage for medical evacuation of the exchange visitor to his/her home country in the amount of $50,000
4. A deductible which does not exceed $500 per accident or illness.

J-1 Scholars must provide proof of health insurance for themselves and any family members when they first arrive and report to the Office of Immigration, and again if they apply for an extension of their J-1 status. J-1 Scholars may purchase any plan that provides the minimum level of coverage listed above, if not receiving the USA health insurance benefits.

Health/Immunizations - All scholars who come to the US and specifically to university settings should make sure that they are aware of the immunization requirements for their specific functions. If the scholar will stay in the residence hall at USA, they must have proof of the meningitis vaccine within the last 5 years. If scholars will be teaching classes or participating in activities with students we highly recommend that scholars consider securing the appropriate immunizations as noted at <http://www.southalabama.edu/departments/studenthealth/immunization.html>. Using the forms at <http://www.southalabama.edu/departments/studenthealth/forms.html> may also be useful in documenting health background/history and immunizations prior to coming to USA. Although the information is designed for international students, scholars should keep this information in mind. Some programs at USA may require these and additional health and immunization verification, the host should inform scholars of such as it is often much less expensive to take care of such prior to entering the US and please make sure the scholars bring such records with them.

OTHER IMPORTANT CONSIDERATIONS

No Patient Contact Limitation - The program in which the Exchange Visitor is to be engaged is solely for the purpose of observation, consultation, teaching, or research and there may be no element of patient care services involved. If incidental contact is expected, please discuss with the Office of Immigration.

The Education Commission for Foreign Medical Graduates (ECFMG). <http://www.ecfm.org/evsp/> “Foreign national physicians who seek entry into U.S. programs of graduate medical education or training must obtain an appropriate visa that permits clinical training activities. One visa commonly used by foreign national physicians is the J-1, a temporary nonimmigrant visa reserved for participants in the Exchange Visitor Program. As a public diplomacy initiative of the U.S. Department of State, the Exchange Visitor Program was established to enhance international exchange and mutual understanding between the people of the United States and other nations.” “ECFMG is authorized by the U.S. Department of State to sponsor J-1 Exchange Visitor physicians enrolled in accredited programs of graduate medical education or training or advanced research programs (involving primarily observation, consultation, teaching or research). Although many universities and research institutions in the United States are authorized to sponsor Exchange Visitors in the categories of student or research scholar, ECFMG is the sole sponsor of J-1 physicians in clinical training programs.”

“ECFMG administers its sponsorship program in accordance with federal regulation (22 CFR § 62) and is responsible to ensure that all Exchange Visitors and host institutions meet the federal requirements for participation.” <http://www.ecfm.org/evsp/>

Postdoctoral Policies – The University of South Alabama at a minimum follows the postdoctoral policies as outlined by the USA Office of Postdoctoral Education at <https://www.southalabama.edu/departments/postdoctoraleducation>. Duration of stay on a J for postdoctoral programs may not exceed five years. If any USA division has additional policies and guidelines for such please be sure to include such in the letters of offer/invitation. These policies apply to all paid and unpaid guest postdoctoral J-1 Exchanges.

US Tax Compliance Regulations - All J-1 Scholars are required to comply with IRS Tax Compliance regulations including filing a return even if there was no income received from a US source while in the US. Additionally, in order to receive payments from the University of South Alabama or any source in the United States Exchange Visitors will be required to provide either a US Social Security Number (SSN) or an Individual Tax Identification Number (ITIN). All payment, reimbursements from the University of South Alabama are subject to a 14-30% withholding tax per US IRS regulations. Tax treaties may also apply if the information is addressed early enough in the process. To determine the applicability of all IRS regulations, consult with the University of South Alabama Foreign Tax Compliance Specialist in Payroll. Do this PRIOR to making any offers, arrangements or payments.

*Due to the complexity of US tax regulations the University of South Alabama cannot provide advising on US tax compliance procedures. Scholars will be responsible to file income tax returns each year they work in the U.S.

OVERVIEW OF EXPORT CONTROL REQUIREMENT FOR J-1

In support of your request for J-1 sponsorship, the Office of Immigration is required to certify whether or not a license for export controlled technology or technical data is necessary for the exchange visitor being sponsored. To facilitate this requirement, we ask your assistance in completing the questionnaire below. In addition, the Office of Research Compliance and Assurance will review the form and if necessary will confer with the sponsored-individual and appropriate supervisor or administrator to determine whether a license under EAR or ITAR would be required. The license acquisition process would be initiated in parallel to J-1 sponsorship. Any future changes or extensions of the sponsored exchange visitor must also be reviewed for compliance. ## TECHNOLOGY ALERT LISTS & VISA DELAYS

Scholars who will conduct research or teach in fields (primarily sciences, engineering, and technology) that are related to the fields on the Technology Alert List (TAL) can expect lengthy delays for their visa issuance. While the current version of the Technology Alert List is not available to the public, an older version of the Technology Alert List gives a list of 15 categories that are subject to clearance, which provides helpful guidance in preparation.

It is important to note that a scholar does not have to be conducting research in a field that is on this list to be subject to TAL clearance. If the Consular Officer feels that the field of research or teaching is possibly related to one of the 15 fields below, the scholar will have to provide additional information to obtain TAL clearance prior to issuance of a visa. It is important that departments in the science, engineering, and technology fields help their scholars by providing an additional support letter to clarify what the scholar's research or teaching area is and whether or not it relates to any of the fields on the TAL list below. A sample TAL support letter is provided.
