

Types of Use of Results

Below are suggestions on how to use data for continuous improvement (Use of Results in TracDat). If you have additional examples, please email Institutional Effectiveness at effectiveness@southalabama.edu and we will add to the list!

- Add faculty
- Add new services
- Add staff
- Additional tutoring
- Changes in assessment practices
- Changes in pedagogical practices
- Changes in personnel
- Changes in recruiting practices
- Changes to curriculum
- Continue data collection
- Data not collected
- Delete services
- Enrollment changes
- Implement additional training
- Improvements of technology
- Modification of frequency or schedule of course offerings
- Monitoring results
- Professional development
- Request for additional resources
- Revamp services
- Review curriculum
- Revision of admission criteria
- Revision of course assessment practices
- Revision of course content
- Revision of course sequence
- Revision of data collection methods
- Revision of intended outcome
- Revision of policies and procedures
- Revision of the criterion
- Revision or enforcement of prerequisites
- Revisions of advising standards or processes
- Revisions to university programs
- Technology improvements
- Update information on website