Bibliographical Note:

The League of Women Voters of Mobile held its first meeting on May 23, 1955, in the Mobile Public Library. There were twenty-four original members. In April 1956, the Mobile Chapter became a provisional member of the National League of Women Voters. League members attended city commission meetings, assisted poll workers, and supported numerous charities and causes in Mobile. The Mobile League published a handbook in 1959 entitled, "This is Mobile," especially for newcomers to the area. Beginning in the 1960s, the Mobile League joined with other organizations in support of better environmental practices along the Gulf Coast. In the 1980s, League members helped found the Coastal Environmental Alliance, a coalition of environmentally-minded organizations, to combat a proposed ocean waste incineration plan for Mobile Bay. The Mobile League continues to be active in local politics today.

Scope and Content:

The League of Women Voters of Mobile Papers contain correspondence, minutes, subject files, publications, and newspaper clippings dealing with local, state, and national issues relating to politics, environmental protection, and a variety of other topics. Of particular local interest is the large section about the Mobile League's environmental activism and the series on the Coastal Environmental Alliance.

Arrangement:

The collection is divided into four series: 1) Organization Records (6 cubic feet); 2) Subject Files (5 cubic feet); 3) Environmental Subject Files (3.75 cubic feet); and 4) Coastal Environmental Alliance (1 cubic foot.)

Note:

More material on the League can be found in Box 6, folder 48 of the Frederick Whiddon Papers (accession #343).

Series 2: Subject Files:

Alphabetically-arranged subject files relating to the Mobile League activities. Of particular interest are files on Mobile public education, criminal justice, and municipal government studies.

Series 3: Environmental Subject Files:

This series contains subject files dealing with environmental activities along the Gulf Coast. There are large files on Mobile Oil and the Save Our Dunes Project. The series also contains newspaper clippings and miscellaneous printed materials. NOTE: Researchers should also consult Series 4: Coastal Environmental Alliance, The Mobile Bay Audubon Society Papers, and the EPA Vulcanus Papers for related material.

Series 4: Coastal Environmental Alliance:

A coalition of organizations formed in the 1980s to combat environmental destruction along the Gulf Coast. The Alliance coordinated the efforts of several organizations to oppose oceanic waste incineration in Mobile Bay and other related projects. The series consists of correspondence, subject files, printed material, and minutes from the organization for the early 1980s. The material was removed from its original order among other League papers to facilitate research.
